have also agreed to extend crop loans upto a maximum of Rs. 50 lakhs at 9% interest so as to benefit the coffee growers having land holdings upto 60 hectares.

Both Tea and Coffee Boards are also implementing a number of developmental schemes during the Tenth Five Year Plan for enhancing productivity, quality and marketability of these commodities produced in the country. Government has also reduced the import duty on items of machinery used to improve productivity and quality of tea and coffee to an all inclusive rate of 5%.

The Tea and Coffee Boards also support some welfare programmes and activities for the benefit of the workers and their dependants in areas like education, health care etc.

The measures taken to boost the system of marketing of tea include implementation of an IT based Information Dissemination Plan for the tea industry, including conversion of manual auction centres into electronic auction centres which is expected to improve the efficiency of the tea purchase systems and reduce transaction time and costs. Tea and Coffee Boards are also taking a number of measures for market development such as implementation of a medium term export strategy, participation in major trade fairs/exhibitions abroad, generic promotion efforts through public relation campaigns etc.

Government of India has launched the Technology Mission on Cotton (TMC) in February, 2000 to address the issues of raising productivity, improving quality and reducing the cost of production for providing the much needed competitive advantage to the textile industry alongwith ensuring attractive returns to the farmers. The Mission consists of 4 Mini Missions. These Mini Missions relate to improvement in marketing infrastructure and include the revival of dormant market yards, improvement In existing market yards and setting up of new market yards. These also aim at modernization of ginning and pressing factories thereby improving the quality of cotton by reducing contamination, ensuring better prices to growers.
